LOS LONELY BOYS BRING THEIR HEAVENLY TEX-MEX INSPIRED ROCK-N-ROLL TO JOHN ASCUAGA'S NUGGET JULY 27

Maybe heaven isn't so far away for the Los Lonely Boys? In 2003 the trio of brothers from San Angelo, Texas that call their music "Texican Rock n' Roll," debuted with the multi-chart gold single "Heaven." Heaven spent 30 weeks on the charts and earned them a Grammy Award for Best Pop Performance.

After proving themselves one of the most stunning and wonderful musical success stories of the last decade, Los Lonely Boys are now carving out their legend with their fourth studio album. On Rockpango they heighten the trajectory, open up their sound, and show what flourishing maturity feels like from these veteran yet still young and burgeoning musical talents.

Rockpango is a spirit and sound coined by Los Lonely Boys that takes the next step from fandango (a beat of loving celebration) and then huapango (another infectious Latin rhythm that gets the fiesta cooking) to a full-scale Tex-Mex American roots rock party galore. Bursting out of the gate with the simmering and slinky "American Idle" that scans today's tough economic times, and wrapping up 10 tracks later with the fierce and fiery assertion that love is the answer on "Believe," Los Lonely Boys look at the big picture around us with the concerns and continuing faith that come with well-grounded adulthood.

"I'm super proud of it," says JoJo Garza, bassist and middle brother in the triumvirate. "It's just progress, maturation and growth. Growing up, being older, seeing the world we're living in. It's also touching base with home."

Los Lonely Boys perform July 27 at 9 p.m. in the Celebrity Showroom at John Ascuaga's Nugget. Tickets are $30 and are available at janugget.com or by calling 800-648-1177 or 775-356-3300.

John Ascuaga's Nugget is one of the few family-owned casino resorts left in the country. Founded as a coffee shop with a few slot machines on March 17, 1955, John Ascuaga has built the Nugget into a world-class, full-service gaming resort destination.
